

Martin Robb

Partner

Martin has more than 20 years continuous experience in the UK healthcare market and has been involved in many of the largest portfolios in the sector whether as trading going concerns or investments.

In 2002, Martin joined Christie + Co as the head of the healthcare valuation business, a role he remained in for over 13 years. In April 2016 he moved to Cushman & Wakefield to create a dedicated healthcare service line. The team currently comprises 11 valuers and agents focussing upon valuation and transaction projects, including those relating to trading businesses, investments, developments and funding arrangements, specifically within the sub-sectors of:

- Elderly care
- Specialist care for persons with mental or physical handicap, or associated conditions
- Supported living settings
- Retirement villages
- Private Hospitals
- GP Surgeries
- NHS Trust properties
- Children's day nurseries

The C&W healthcare team advised on assets worth over £2.2 billion in 2017.
