Primary Care One Wales website

An all-Wales web resource developed to promote primary care cluster development and collaborative working in Wales

What is the Primary and Community Care Development and Innovation Hub?

We were established by Public Health Wales to coordinate support for health boards and clusters, at a national level, in the delivery of the national plan for primary and community care in Wales.

Primary Care One Wales provides sources of Information specific to clusters and cluster leads across Wales, as well as the wider primary and community care audience. We want to hear about the work going on in your clusters - visit the website or email us if you'd like to contribute.

Primary Care One Wales was developed, and is moderated by, the Primary and Community Care Development and Innovation Hub, part of Public Health Wales.

What is Primary Care One Wales?

- A central source of online information relevant to primary care clusters, cluster leads and primary care professionals across Wales
- Has a public facing website and a secure login section for forum discussion between clusters and cluster leads

Why Primary Care One Wales?

- Enables clusters to collaborate and support each other to share best practice
- Reflects the needs of primary care professionals in developing cluster working

In late 2015, the Primary and Community Care Development and Innovation 'Hub' issued a questionnaire to help identify ways in which the Hub could support cluster development at a national level. The questionnaire identified a need for a national cluster website, with 87% of respondents indicating they would find a website a useful resource. Primary Care One Wales has been in development since early 2016 and was launched in Nov 2017.
