

Terms of Use for Use of Rystad Energy Products

USE OF THE PRODUCTS

1. Subject to reference of source (e.g. "Source: Rystad Energy"), the Client may;

a) extract parts of the data or information in the Products for inclusion in the Client's own work, reports, evaluations and analyses, such as in spreadsheets, presentations, or the like, for the Client's internal business purposes.

b) extract parts of the data or information in the Products for inclusion in Client's own work, reports, evaluations and analyses, such as in presentations, publications and other materials to be used by the Client as part of the Client's normal business activities, including Client's services to third parties. The Client cannot distribute data sets as such from the Products to third parties without the Client's further processing of such data (the Client's added value).

2. The Client may not disclose or distribute, or permit to be disclosed or distributed, any Product, information or data contained in or derived from any Product to any person, except as expressly permitted pursuant to this Agreement. The Client may not use the Product to create any derivative works for any purposes whatsoever save as expressly permitted in this Agreement.

3. Client may not copy or use any portion of the Product, or permit any such to be copied or used, including posting reports on Client's Internet or Intranet sites, except as expressly permitted in accordance with this Agreement.

4. The Client may not use data from the Products to compile any data base or product which is the same as, similar to, or competes with, the Products.

5. The Client shall not upload, feed, or otherwise transfer any part of the Product, or any information or data contained in or derived from the Product, to any open, non-enterprise or otherwise external generative AI systems, including but not limited to large language models or any similar systems, where user inputs, prompts or uploaded information may be used to train, fine-tune, or otherwise improve such models or systems for public use or for the benefit of third parties. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Client may use the Product, or data contained therein, with generative AI systems that are (a) internally hosted or (b) enterprise solutions used exclusively for the Client's internal business purposes (collectively, "Internal AI"). Such use is permitted only where the Client implements and maintains effective controls to ensure that:

a) the data is not used to train, fine-tune, or otherwise improve any AI model for the benefit of third parties

b) the data is not disclosed or made available to the public, and

c) all processing is limited to defined, case-specific tasks such as internal summaries, comparisons, extraction of relevant information, responses to internal enquiries, or similar support functions.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Client shall not use the Product or any related data to (i.) Train or improve any Internal AI system in a general or ongoing manner (i.e., beyond the scope of specific, limited tasks described above), (ii.) Develop or operate automated tools (such as report generators) that replicate or compete with Rystad Energy's Products, or (iii.) Engage in any other form of disloyal or unauthorized use of the Product in connection with the Client's Internal AI.
